Interacting with peers from different races, ethnicities, and economic backgrounds promotes open-mindedness, empathy, and global awareness which also benefits the local and school community of WHS. This exposure prepares students for the multicultural world they will navigate, encourages critical thinking, and equips them with skills to collaborate effectively in diverse teams and allow them to navigate successfully to their post-secondary aspirations. The demographic diversity of WHS fosters a community of students who value differences.

Problem Statements Identifying Demographics Needs

Problem Statement 1: There is a lack of ESL certified teachers at WHS.   Root Cause: There is a limited time to prepare for tests, certification has not been mandated by the district, and there are a lack of incentives for ESL certification.

Problem Statement 2 (Prioritized): At-risk students struggle more with discipline, academics, and behavior at WHS.   Root Cause: At-risk students typically have difficulties outside of the school day that adversely impact their success on campus, both academically and behaviorally.

Problem Statement 3 (Prioritized): Every student at WHS is not CCMR (Career, College, Military Readiness) complete upon graduation.   Root Cause: State requirements changed for CCMR completion. WHS did not have a visible or well-accessible college and career center. Students struggle meeting the requirements of TSI-A or receive certifications in CTE courses.

Problem Statement 4: Students at WHS often do not have supports at home to help them achieve success academically.   Root Cause: WHS is a Title 1 school with many families that are economically disadvantaged. There are also a large percentage of families that work during hours that students are home, or that cannot assist with academic assignments their student's bring home. Students at WHS are often tasked with helping to provide financially for their family, or support in other ways, including childcare.

Problem Statement 5: There is a lack of diversity of WHS staff that reflects the diversity of the student population.   Root Cause: While there are many applicants applying for jobs, many of those applicants are not certified in the areas of need. This hinders the hiring efforts especially when a high-need position is vacant.

Student Learning

Student Learning Summary

Waxahachie High School prides itself on fostering a dynamic educational environment where every student experiences consistent academic growth across all core subjects. Through dedicated teaching methodologies and personalized attention, the school ensures that each student progresses in their academic journey year after year. By tailoring instruction to individual needs, strengths, and areas of improvement, Waxahachie High School empowers students to conquer challenges and continually advance their academic skills. This commitment to student growth not only yields impressive academic results but also cultivates a sense of confidence and achievement among students.

The school's emphasis on holistic education goes beyond just academics. Through a comprehensive approach that includes extracurricular activities, mentorship programs, and collaborative projects, Waxahachie High School nurtures students' well-rounded development. This holistic growth prepares students not only for success within the school's walls but also equips them with the tools and mindset to thrive in higher education and beyond. In essence, Waxahachie High School's dedication to fostering consistent academic growth in every student underscores its commitment to producing confident, capable, and accomplished individuals prepared to excel in a rapidly evolving world.

Waxahachie High School's approach to curriculum, instruction, and assessment is characterized by innovation, collaboration, and student choice, fostering a dynamic and engaging learning environment that promotes holistic student development.

1. Innovative Curriculum Design:

   - The school leverages innovative teaching methods and technology to enhance the curriculum, making learning relevant and engaging for students.

   - Blending traditional subjects with interdisciplinary projects and real-world applications encourages critical thinking and creativity.

   - Incorporating emerging topics and skills, such as digital literacy and problem-solving, ensures students are well-prepared for the future.

2. Collaborative Teaching Practices:

   - Collaborative planning among teachers within and across content areas encourages the integration of diverse perspectives and approaches.

   - Joint projects and team-teaching initiatives foster a cohesive learning experience, enabling students to make connections across subjects.

   - Regular sharing of best practices and lesson ideas enhances instructional quality and innovation school-wide.

3. Empowering Student Choice:

   - Providing students with a degree of autonomy over their learning path enables them to pursue areas of interest and aligns with their individual learning styles.

   - Offering elective courses and flexible project options lets students explore diverse subjects, fostering a sense of ownership in their education.

   - Student involvement in designing projects and setting learning goals enhances motivation and promotes a deeper understanding of content.

4. Varied Assessment Strategies:

   - Moving beyond traditional exams, the school employs diverse assessment methods, such as project-based assessments, portfolios, and presentations.

   - Formative assessments are integrated into the learning process to provide timely feedback and guide instructional adjustments.

- Assessment criteria consider not only academic achievement but also critical thinking, problem-solving, and collaboration skills.

By combining innovation, collaboration, and student choice, Waxahachie High School cultivates an educational experience that goes beyond the conventional. This approach empowers students to become active participants in their learning journey, equipping them with the skills and mindset needed to thrive in a rapidly evolving world.

Problem Statement 3 (Prioritized): At-risk students struggle more with discipline, academics, and behavior at WHS. Root Cause: At-risk students typically have difficulties outside of the school day that adversely impact their success on campus, both academically and behaviorally.

Problem Statement 4 (Prioritized): Every student at WHS is not showing academic growth in all four core content areas every year. Root Cause: Limitations have been placed on numerous students based upon unmeasurable data and previous performance on State and local assessments. Academic growth of every student, every year, in every core class has not been properly prioritized by all instructional staff in the past.

Problem Statement 5 (Prioritized): Student Academic Support and Data Utilization   Root Cause: Our existing academic support systems and data utilization processes require improvement to effectively address the needs of struggling students and to ensure that instructional time is maximized. Although there are measures such as APEX for credit recovery and various tutoring programs, there is a need for a more cohesive and data-driven approach to track progress and tailor interventions to indi

Problem Statement 6: Student achievement and growth is stagnant in the areas of English and Mathematics.   Root Cause: Lack of a streamlined curriculum and utilized High Quality Instructional Material (HQIM) throughout the campus. Oversight from administration due to other demands and a more thorough intentional intervention system has not been at the level that is needed to see great improvement.

School Processes & Programs

School Processes & Programs Summary

Processes and programs of Waxahachie High School allow for the retaining and retention of high-quality staff, appropriate use of facilities, and well-monitored and appropriate use of funds.

The plan for enhancing staff quality, recruitment, and retention at Waxahachie High School is rooted in creating an environment that fosters continuous growth, collaboration, and job satisfaction. A key component of this strategy is the implementation of Professional Learning Communities (PLCs), which will serve as a driving force behind increasing teacher satisfaction and overall staff excellence.

1. Recruitment:

   - Develop a comprehensive recruitment strategy that highlights the school's commitment to professional development, collaborative culture, and student-centered approach.

   - Establish partnerships with local universities and colleges to attract aspiring educators interested in joining a thriving learning community.

   - Offer competitive compensation packages, signing bonuses, and incentives to attract high-quality teachers to the school.

2. Retention:

   - Implement a mentorship program that pairs experienced educators with new hires, providing guidance and support during the transition.

   - Provide ongoing opportunities for professional development, including workshops, seminars, and certifications, to help teachers continuously improve their skills.

   - Foster a positive and inclusive school culture that recognizes and celebrates the contributions of staff members, enhancing their sense of belonging and value.

3. Professional Learning Communities (PLCs):

   - Establish PLCs within subject departments to encourage regular collaboration, idea sharing, and best practice discussions among teachers.

   - Allocate dedicated time for PLC meetings, where educators can analyze student performance data, discuss teaching strategies, and address challenges collectively.

   - Recognize and reward PLC-driven initiatives that lead to improved student outcomes and innovative teaching methods, further boosting teacher satisfaction.

4. Feedback Mechanism:

   - Develop a system for regular feedback collection from teachers to gauge their needs, concerns, and suggestions for improvement.

   - Use the feedback to tailor professional development opportunities, address issues, and make informed decisions that enhance staff morale.

5. Career Advancement Opportunities:

   - Create pathways for teachers to take on leadership roles, such as department heads, curriculum coordinators, or mentor teachers, providing them with opportunities for growth and increased responsibility.

   - Establish a transparent promotion process that recognizes and rewards educators for their dedication and contributions.

By implementing these strategies, Waxahachie High School can create an environment that attracts, retains, and empowers high-quality educators. The focus on Professional Learning Communities will not only enhance collaboration and teaching effectiveness but also contribute to elevated teacher satisfaction and overall school success.

Waxahachie High School also demonstrates a remarkable commitment to the effective use of its facilities and financial resources, ensuring an optimal learning environment for students. The school's astute management of its facilities is evident in its ability to create versatile spaces that cater to a wide range of educational needs. By repurposing areas and utilizing multi-purpose rooms, the school maximizes the utility of its physical spaces, promoting collaborative learning, extracurricular activities, and community engagement.

Financial resources at Waxahachie High School are thoughtfully allocated to prioritize student growth and success. The school maintains a transparent budgeting process that involves stakeholders, ensuring that funds are directed towards initiatives that enhance both academic and non-academic experiences. Investments in technology, modern teaching tools, and infrastructure upgrades reflect the school's dedication to equipping students with the tools they need to excel in a dynamic and tech-driven world.

Furthermore, the school's prudent financial management extends beyond day-to-day operations. It strategically plans for future needs, establishing reserve funds that serve as a safety net during unforeseen circumstances or for planned expansions. This proactive approach showcases the school's commitment to sustaining a high-quality educational experience for its students while maintaining a strong financial foundation. In essence, the effective use of facilities and financial resources at Waxahachie High School underscores its mission to provide a comprehensive, forward-looking education that prepares students for success in all aspects of their lives.

School Processes & Programs Strengths

Statement on Processes and Program Strengths at Waxahachie High School

Waxahachie High School excels in several key areas that ensure a robust educational environment and support student success.

Recruitment and Hiring

We utilize various platforms such as the Waxahachie ISD website, social media, LinkedIn, Monsters, and Indeed to recruit high-quality educators. Roles and responsibilities are clearly defined, ensuring educators are well-matched to classroom and subject needs based on their certifications and expertise.

Professional Development

Teachers have access to ongoing professional learning opportunities, including after-school training through TLI, choice-based learning via iNation, and support for ESL certification through Region 10.

Support Systems

New teachers are paired with content-specific mentors and attend monthly New Teacher Academy sessions. Struggling teachers receive targeted professional development and, if necessary, a detailed Teacher in Need Support process.

Evaluation and Improvement

Teacher evaluations consider both summative and formative student data, particularly for those in the TIA process. Continuous improvement is a focus, with stakeholders involved in developing focused improvement plans and supporting low-performing students through remediation and after-school tutoring.

Student Support and Opportunities

Students, especially those at risk, are provided with enrichment and acceleration opportunities through programs like APEX, College Board resources, and Project-Based Learning. We coordinate academic and CTE content with college and career counseling to offer a well-rounded educational experience.

Lesson Planning and Instructional Time

Lesson planning is data-driven, guided by highly effective instructional materials (HQMI). We maximize instructional time with protocols like a no cell phone policy and restricted restroom breaks.

Equity and Transitions

We ensure equity of service for all students, allowing them to choose schedules and classes based on their needs. Support systems are in place to assist students transitioning between grade levels and campuses, from Pre-K to post-secondary education.

Classroom Management and Safety

Classroom management and disciplinary procedures are clear, focusing on reducing referrals through proactive steps and parent involvement. Safety is a priority, with monthly drills, active shooter demonstrations, and tools like TIP411 and Blocksi to address concerns.

In conclusion, Waxahachie High School's strengths in recruitment, professional development, support systems, and student opportunities align with our vision, mission, and goals, creating a supportive and effective educational environment.

Problem Statements Identifying School Processes & Programs Needs

Problem Statement 1 (Prioritized): Recruitment and Professional Development   Root Cause: Despite a robust recruitment process, there is a need for a more comprehensive and ongoing professional development program that aligns with our instructional goals and supports continuous improvement for all educators, particularly new and struggling teachers. The existing professional learning opportunities, such as TLI after-school training and iNation selections, need to be expanded and better

Problem Statement 2 (Prioritized): Student Academic Support and Data Utilization   Root Cause: Our existing academic support systems and data utilization processes require improvement to effectively address the needs of struggling students and to ensure that instructional time is maximized. This includes enhancing communication and involvement of all stakeholders, consistently enforcing disciplinary procedures, and systematically collecting and analyzing data on bullying, drug use, violence, and other safety concerns to enhance the learning experience.

Problem Statement 5 (Prioritized): Staff are unaware of the organization and communication of events, important information, how to report issues, and campus/district initiatives. Root Cause: Lack of set procedures communicated to staff.

Perceptions

Perceptions Summary

Based on Student and Parent Survey results, Waxahachie High School boasts a notably positive school culture and climate that greatly contributes to the overall educational experience of its students. This thriving environment is characterized by a sense of inclusivity, where students from diverse cultural, racial, and economic backgrounds come together to create a positive community. The school's commitment to fostering a welcoming atmosphere is evident in its emphasis on tolerance, empathy, and open communication. Students are encouraged to express themselves freely, leading to a rich exchange of ideas and perspectives that enriches the learning process.

The school's administration and teachers play a pivotal role in shaping this positive culture by promoting collaboration, cooperation, and mutual support among students. This nurturing environment extends beyond academics, encompassing extracurricular activities, clubs, and sports, where students find avenues to explore their passions and talents. The holistic approach to education at Waxahachie High School not only prepares students for academic success but also equips them with the interpersonal skills and cultural competence necessary to excel in an interconnected world. The school's commitment to a positive school culture and climate creates a foundation for lifelong learning, personal growth, and a strong sense of belonging among its diverse student body.

Increasing community and parent engagement at Waxahachie High School is of paramount importance for fostering a thriving educational environment and supporting students' holistic growth. Active involvement of parents and the broader community plays a pivotal role in creating a supportive ecosystem that enhances the overall quality of education.

Firstly, strong community and parent engagement enhances student success by creating a seamless partnership between the school, families, and the community. When parents are engaged in their child's education, they become valuable collaborators in the learning process, reinforcing classroom lessons and providing additional support at home. This synergy between school and home contributes to improved student attendance, higher academic achievement, and better overall well-being.

Secondly, community and parent engagement positively impact the school's culture and climate. By involving parents and community members in school activities, events, and decision-making processes, a sense of shared ownership is cultivated. This collaborative spirit not only creates a welcoming atmosphere but also builds trust and open lines of communication between all stakeholders. It leads to a more inclusive environment where diverse perspectives are valued, fostering a sense of belonging for students and encouraging their active participation in their own education.

Furthermore, community and parent engagement enriches the learning experience beyond the classroom. The involvement of community members, including local businesses and organizations, exposes students to real-world applications of their learning and widens their understanding of various fields. Moreover, it empowers students to make connections between their education and future career possibilities. Overall, increased engagement from parents and the community amplifies the positive impact of education, creating a holistic, supportive, and collaborative ecosystem that nurtures student success.

Perceptions Strengths

Learning Environment

Perceptions of the learning environment vary. Honors and upper-level students generally have a positive view, while regular class students, particularly those from lower socioeconomic backgrounds, feel less supported. Parents want more engaging classroom experiences rather than worksheets.

Safety and Belonging

Staff and students feel safe but are dissatisfied with the DIR-S app for safety. Extracurricular activities create a strong sense of belonging. Recent efforts to recognize staff and maintain regular check-ins have been well-received.

Teacher Satisfaction and Turnover

Most teachers enjoy working at the school, though some are nearing retirement. Competitive salaries and a four-day workweek elsewhere contribute to turnover. Teachers feel supported but desire more collaborative planning time and less professional development.

Mentoring and Development

The mentoring process for new and struggling teachers needs improvement. More targeted training is necessary to help young teachers with content delivery and classroom management.

Student Engagement and Attendance

Student engagement varies, with a preference for interactive classes over lectures. Attendance has improved with a structured Saturday School program, but disparities remain among different student subgroups.

Dropout Rates and Support

The dropout rate is low at 1%, with higher rates among Hispanic and African American students. Alternative pathways and support systems like night tutoring and counseling programs are in place, but more support is needed for lower socioeconomic students.

Community and Parent Involvement

The school enjoys strong community support, especially for extracurricular activities. Efforts are being made to better involve lower socioeconomic and bilingual parents in school activities and meetings.

Communication and Conflict Resolution

Communication through Parent Square, Skyward, and social media is effective, though some parents feel overwhelmed. Conflict resolution strategies are in place to address student issues.

Vision and Inclusivity

The district effectively communicates its mission and values. Providing better support for non-English speaking families and improving teacher mentoring are areas for improvement.

Conclusion

Our high school has a strong community focus with many opportunities for student involvement and achievement. While there are areas needing attention, particularly in supporting diverse student groups and improving teacher mentoring, the overall environment is positive. Continuous efforts to engage stakeholders, recognize staff, and maintain effective communication will further strengthen the school.
